

EL PASO CLUB IS HELPLESS BEFORE COPPER QUEEN TEAM

Manager Buchanan's Crack Aggregation Hands Pass City Nine Humiliating Defeat; 14 to 3 Tells Story.

The El Paso City Club baseballists were made to appear like a group of primary school children facing a college club, Sunday afternoon, when they were slaughtered to the tune of 14 to 3 by the Copper Queen Boosters aggregation, otherwise known as Buck's Pos. Naturally enough it was expected that the diamond representatives from the Pass City, where the students of then national pastime have the benefit of constant observation of the inside points of the game as exemplified by the Rio Grande masters, would be able to give the local lads a few ideas as to how the subtle intricacies of the sport really should be executed. Such however, which is entirely needless to aver in view of the top-sided score, was decidedly not the case. It was very, very easy for Manager Buchanan's hopefuls.

As a rather goodly delegation of the faithful had assembled, many of them undoubtedly encouraged to come out and bask in the midsummer rays of the Arizona sun by the glowing forecasts of what might be expected of ball tossers from the city famous as being the American gate way to that Monte Carlo of Mexico—Juarez. It really seems a great pity that the Boosters could not have had the opportunity to oppose a team more worthy of their diamond skill. However, as has been stated in these columns, the Boosters are playing pretty classy ball these days and they really are, no doubt, to be classified in at least as lofty a group as the worthies who sport the spangles of the league which derives its name from the stream which forms a considerable stretch of the international boundary.

But to get down to the game—and some old ball game it "sure" was. A travesty on the national sport? Much worse than that—it was dire calamity, an insult to the good name of baseball. But the fans derived lots of fun out of it and are willing and glad to forgive—just so it does not happen again.

It would be too taxing on the heart and nerves to attempt to enter into the wiled details. It would be not unlike dragging the family skeleton from their closet and exposing it to the view of a morbid curious public. Then, lest the public should think the game a criterion by which to judge the usual criterion at Warren Park, it were better to refrain from detailed narration.

There were about two performers on the visiting combine who acted as if they had never been in a real game. These were Pitcher Flaherty and First-baseman Chant. The latter kept the fans edified by a series of gyrations, vocal and otherwise, while he constantly "killed" the batters and any baserunners who chanced to pass his way. The pitcher showed considerable form at times, in the second for instance, when he fanned three in succession.

The home team played nice ball, only two players getting into the error column. Cassidy pitched splendidly, holding the visitors almost helpless until it became evident that the name was really a "cinch" for the locals, when he let up a bit. Kemp, Banks, Kraft and Jock failed well. The summary and score:

PROSPECTS FOR GOOD MATCH ON JULY 4 ARE IMPROVING EVERY DAY

Possibility That Strouger, Ex-Army Lightweight and Champion of His Class on Border, Will Be Matched for Go.

Prospects for a good mill on either July 4 or 5, at Naco, are improving daily. Manager Sid Coburn of the Naco Athletic Club is busy engaged with the problem of securing the best talent the section has to offer.

Manager Coburn was endeavoring to match Frankie Day, the Douglas boy, with George Mensie, long known to fame in the calendar of things Naco. Mensie has been heard from, however, and has declined to leave his position in Los Angeles.

As a consequence, Coburn is casting about for other material. In the lightweight division the most promising outlook is for Larry Strouger. The boxer is one of the best in the Southwest at the present time. He recently was discharged from the Thirtieth cavalry, which was stationed at Fort Bliss and then at Columbus, New Mexico. His record is a very excellent one and guarantees a good show with any one.

The management of the Naco bouts is trying to place the ex-army boy with another youngster of equal ability and weight in order to assure the fans of the best possible kind of a fight for the occasion. Strouger has the reputation of being a "killer." He is aggressive, to the point of being a bull dog, and he doesn't know when he is whipped. This kind of a fighter will and he is "in right" before the fans of Naco.

MOTORCYCLE RACE SCHEDULED FOR 4TH

A motorcycle race between Douglas and Naco, for the Fourth, by way of Warren and Osborn over the short cut, has practically been decided on. From ten to fifteen motorcycles have announced their intention of trying for the prizes offered by the Fourth of July committee of the border town.

Two hundred and fifty dollars will be hung up for prizes. This will be divided into four parts. The distance of the course is about thirty-six miles and some of it is over very poor roads. The riders expect, however, to make some marks over the course.

COCHISE MINING CAMPS ARE IN GREAT SHAPE SAYS MINE INSPECTOR

Ed Massey, Deputy Mine Inspector for Southern District, Cays Mining Conditions Are Good in Entire County.

Gleason, Courtland, Mascot, Johnson, and other mining camps in the county of Cochise, are in excellent condition, avers Edward Massey, deputy state mine inspector for the Southern District, who has just returned from a trip around his territory.

According to Massey the Shannon Copper Company, at Gleason, is working about seventy men on low grade ore which is used as a flux for the ore mined at their property in Greenlee county. The activity at Gleason, though limited, is consistent and promises to get better as the balance of the copper seasons improve.

In Courtland, according to Massey, leasers are at work and in many cases are making extremely good. Pearce is good, with its big gold mine and with one in the making, which is the Commonwealth Extension and owned by Bisbee people, and Mascot, the celebration of which took place last week is a corner.

Massey expects to leave during the present week for the Hoffer property in the Paradise district where he will make an inspection.

MARATHON STRAIN

The Marathon racing is a strain on even the carefully trained athletes who participate in these long runs, is shown by the recent report filed in connection with the Patriots Day twenty-five miles race at Boston. The physicians who examined and weighed the marathoners before and after the race, reported an average loss of six and a half pounds during the road run, although there were few cases of extreme exhaustion and none with permanent injurious effects. The report is as follows:

The weight of all the men starting was taken and after the race the weight of the first thirty-five men at the club-house. The average loss in weight of these thirty-five was 6.12 pounds. The weight loss of the winner was 7.12 pounds, of the second prize-winner 6.12 pounds, and of the third prize-winner 5 pounds. The heaviest loss in weight was 9.22 pounds, the smallest loss 2.12 pounds. No contestant was prevented from starting in the race and all that finished were in good condition.

SECRET FOOTBALL

The new rule adopted by the Conference Colleges of the middle west limiting the secret football practice to two an' week, will spoil many a good year during the coming season. Secret practice has always been a feature of the field for eridition mostly. Few of the wisest and amazing plays so fully described and critized and credited to various eastern and western eleven have never been seen in actual contests but they made most interesting reading.

A prominent coach was interviewed last fall regarding a certain play and to have been performed by his eleven in secret practice. He listened carefully to a description of the eridition maneuvers as outlined by alleged observers who neglected to state how they became so familiar with the play if it was practiced exclusively behind closed gates.

"Yes, that would be a winner," he remarked after it had been explained in detail. "If we could use our second and third teams to hold our opponents while we were pulling it off."
